

CHARLES UNIVERSITY

Announcement of open competition for mobility of academics, doctoral students and post-doctoral students within the framework of inter-university cooperation in the calendar year 2022

Inter-university cooperation

Most of the interuniversity agreements that Charles University concludes with foreign partner universities promotes the mobility of researchers, PhD and post-doctoral students. These are short-term (one- to three-week) research, study and lecture visits, which the employees arrange in advance with their foreign partners.

Numbers of academic mobilities are contractually defined (number of days and people per year), subject to reciprocity and current financial conditions at both universities. Participation in academic mobility is by no means claimative or automatic.

A list of inter-university agreements can be found at www.cuni.cz/UK-1608.html

For more information about this type of mobility, please contact the International Relations Office at the Rectorate of Charles University <https://cuni.cz/UKEN-607.html>

Who can apply to take part in an academic mobility competition:

- a) scientific and teaching staff of all faculties of Charles University, incl. post-doctoral students (in regular employment with the Charles University, not freelancers),
- b) PhD students in all faculties of Charles University.

Financial backing of the stay

The faculty of Charles University contributes to travel expenses according to internal rules, the host university contributes to the living expenses (ie. accommodation and per diems). The level of contributions varies from country to country and is also governed by the university's current financial capacity. In the event that a foreign university does not have sufficient financial resources to cover subsistence costs or can only partially cover them, the researcher must secure an additional source of funding.

Requirements for the application

The applicant shall contact her/his current or potential scientific partner at a foreign contracting university and negotiate with them the specific content and purpose of her/his stay. On the basis of this agreement, she/he shall prepare a request including:

- 1) Academic Visitor Application (see appendix or <https://cuni.cz/UKEN-169-version1-academic-visitor-application-eng.docx>)
- 2) an invitation letter on letterhead from a foreign partner showing consent to the purpose of the applicant's stay
- 3) justification for multiple stays (when applying for more than 2 trips per year to one country).

Three-stage selection procedure

1) Faculty of Charles University

The application that meets all requirements shall be approved by the head of the department. At the faculty level, the Vice-Dean for Foreign Affairs shall decide on the nominations. The faculty will set a closing date.

2) Rectorate of Charles University

The Vice-Rector for International Relations and Mobility shall decide on nominations on the CU level. The closing date is 10 December 2021.ⁱ

3) foreign university

The nominations submitted by the Vice-Rector for International Relations and Mobility of Charles University are subject to an approval process at the level of the rectorate of the partner university. Nominations received are announced through the foreign departments of the faculties, usually during January/February 2022.

General selection criteria

- mutually beneficial cooperation
- perspective of long-term cooperation
- support for junior scientists
- new scientists and new disciplines
- reciprocity

The weight of the criteria varies from one partner university to another, depending on the priorities of the university's international strategy.

Obligations of mobility participants

- 1) to report the agreed term of stay one month in advance to the foreign department of the faculty and to the IRO CU (unless specified in the application or changed),
- 2) immediately report any cancellation of the stay to the foreign department of the faculty, so that IRO CU can offer the vacancy to other candidates,
- 3) complete the Foreign travel report form within 14 days of return and submit it to the international office of the faculty signed by the head of the department, who will then forward it to IRO CU.

ⁱ Applications for mobility in non-European countries can be discussed individually at any time of the year.
